Below is what will be taught in this 3 days

Building Your Cane Inventory

Have you put off learning to cane because you believe it's too hard, complicated, time consuming, precise, uses too much clay, etc! Alice's canes are easy and fun to do! She doesn't make large canes and she uses every little bit of clay to make some interesting accent canes for all sorts of projects. You will be more creative and productive if you have your cane inventory waiting for you when an idea hits. This class is for all levels of expertise, the only requirement is that you know how to make a Skinner blend and that you come to class with your Skinner blends and plugs already made. (Once registered you will receive instructions free on how to make these before class.)

Cane Mapping

If you love mosaics and polymer clay, the look of complex canes, and love one of a kind pieces this is for you. Some skinner blended canes in your stash will make your designs pop. You'll learn the basics by mapping a portrait like the one pictured above (or bring your own design). Alice will demo her popular Stroppel canes and we'll have fun incorporating some slices into our designs plus use canes from your "Cane Inventory" above.
